Slow summer in Jordan Bowl

Golf course, Marriott timeshares will create few new jobs this year

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The disappointing year experienced by the Newry-based American Skiing Company (see sidebar below) is contributing to a slowdown in growth -- and at least a slight decline in jobs -- at ASC's local subsidiary, Sunday River Ski Resort.

The impact is most noticeable in Jordan Bowl, where Sunday River's ambitious plans for a golf course and vacation village, anchored by a 200-unit Marriott timeshare development, have been pushed back by at least a year.

But the Marriott development and golf course -- key elements of Sunday River's plan for continued growth -- are still moving ahead, according to Chip Seamans, the skiway's managing director.

The golf course plan was made public in January of 1998, and followed later in the year by announcements of the vacation village and Marriott project.

When the vacation village plan was unveiled in July, Seamans projected that it could eventually more than double the number of year-round jobs at the resort (approximately 430 as of last year).

But he also stressed the timetable for the plan was seven to 15 years, and the pace of development would be "dependent on real estate sales

ASC's 3Q earnings fall despite increase in resort revenues

By MICHAEL DANIELS/AP

The American Skiing Company reported last week that net earnings fell 31.7 percent in its fiscal third quarter.

The company, the nation's largest operator of ski and snowboard resorts, earned $21.2 million, or 69 cents per share, in the three months ended April 25, compared to $31.7 million, or $1.03 per share, in the same period a year ago.

Overall revenues for the quarter also fell, from $185.2 million last year to $164.6 million this year. (Real estate revenue from last year's third quarter included $28.1 million related to the openings of the Killington and Mount Snow Grand Summit hotels. There were no similar openings this year.)

For the nine-month period that ended April 25, total revenues were

Telstar Class of 1999 will graduate Friday

By ALISON ALOISIO

Fifty-five members of the Class of 1999 will graduate Friday evening at Telstar High School's 31st Commencement.

Graduation week activities began Tuesday with Senior Class Day and Banquet at the Balsams Hotel in Dixville Notch, N.H.

Senior awards night was scheduled for Wednesday evening. Tonight (Thursday) class members, parents and friends will gather for "A Coming Together" service at 7 p.m. in the Telstar gymnasium.

Friday night's Commencement begins at 7:30 p.m. in the gym. Following the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" procession, Rev. Brendon Bass will open the ceremony.

Those attending will be welcomed by class members Stacy Bachelder and Neil Thurlow.

They will be followed by speakers Jeffrey Chandler, Emily Phillips and Casey Brown -- the third honors student, salutatorian and valedictorian, respectively.

"Reflections" will be offered by Mandy Berry and Angela Buker, followed by all class members singing the choral selection "Today" by Smashing Pumpkins.

Kelly Scotti, chair of the SAD44 School Board, will offer Congratulatory Remarks on behalf of the board.

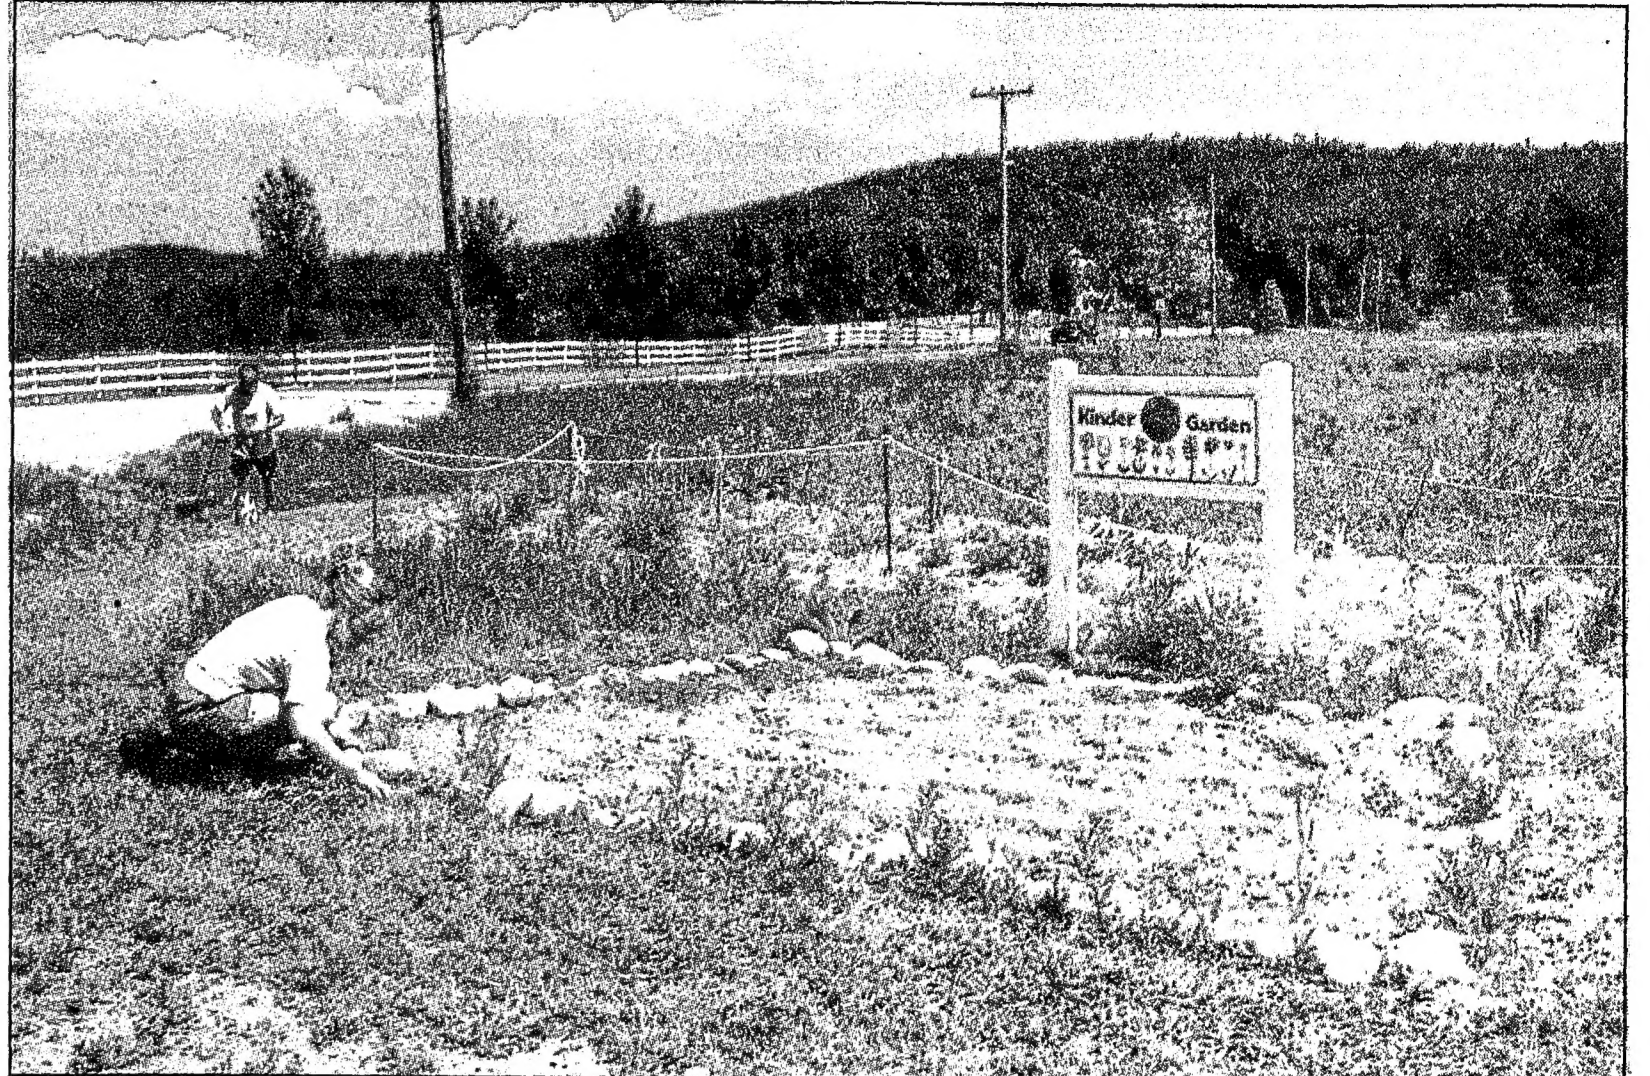

Supt. Kent Rosberg will then certify the graduates, and Principal Ted Davis will present the diplomas.

Farewell remarks will be offered by Malinda Gilbert and Emily Phillips.

Rev. Jean Bass will close the graduation exercises. The recessional will follow. The pianist will be Mrs. Beverly Melville.

Playoffs underway -- Page 9

A garden to greet our visitors

Deena and Gerard Guillet and more than a dozen other volunteers have recently been contributing their time, labor and greenery to beautify the Gateway Garden, located next to the Kinder Garden at the intersection of Route 26 and the Intervale Road. A $500 grant from the Maine Community Foundation helped pay for preparing the soil, including removing the foundation of a building that formerly occupied the site. The grant was awarded for the garden project by the youth group of the West Parish Congregational Church. The Gateway Garden is located on land belonging to the Maine Department of Transportation (which has approved the project). Immediately behind the garden is the 16-acre Intervale Gateway parcel, which was acquired in 1995 by the Mahosuc Land Trust. The land trust sponsored the garden beautification project.

UWP troupers arrive June 13

By ALISON ALOISIO

Gould Academy graduate Teri Chadbourne grew up going to Up With People concerts. Now she's an UWP performer herself -- and was instrumental in bringing the 80-member international troupe to Bethel for a June 15 show.

Up With People was founded more than 30 years ago. Its purpose is to bring together young people from different countries to perform shows around the world. The participants also perform volunteer work in the host communities. Five different casts go on tour for a year.

Chadbourne graduated from Gould Academy in 1998. While there, she participated in drama club, chorus and jazz band productions.

She joined her troupe last July. Chadbourne applied for the program after attending a concert in Portland. "After the show, they asked people (with an interest in applying) to come down front," she said. An interview followed. Participants were chosen based more on personality and interest in the program than on performing talent, she said.

After several weeks of training at UWP's home base in Colorado, Chadbourne and the others hit the road.

The cast stays with host families in each city or community in which they perform. A typical stay is three

Gould grad returns with international cast of performers; host families still sought or four nights.

Early in the tour, Chadbourne served on the advance team for concerts in Germany. She was there for five weeks, long enough to pick up a little of the language.

Since then, she has been a performer.

Her role?

"It changes a little every night," she said. "Sometimes I don't know until five minutes before I get on stage. She usually sings and dances in a supporting role.

After touring Europe, the production returned to tour the eastern U.S. and Canada. She recently had the opportunity to spend three weeks in Bermuda with some of the cast -- a stay she enjoyed because she had more time to get to know her hosts, she said.

While in Bermuda, Chadbourne and her group volunteered at a horseback riding center for disabled children. She has had a variety of public service experiences on the tour. Some included school visits -- a plus for someone who plans to be an elementary school teacher. Chadbourne will attend Middlebury College this fall to prepare for an education career.

What has she learned in the past year?

"When I started the program, I expected the learning experience to be outer directed -- learn about the cast and the communities," said Chadbourne. "But a lot of my learning has been about myself. I know myself better."

Bethel show

The June 15 Bethel show will be the fourth from the last performance for the troupe. It was Chadbourne's idea to make Bethel a stop on the East Coast tour. It's been made a reality with the help of the Mahosuc Arts Council and Vicki Rackliffe.

Titled "Roads," the show is a Broadway-style musical. It is the

SummerFest events planned

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Up With People concert will coincide with a week of activities billed as "Bethel SummerFest Week."

Activities will run from June 10-19. They will include the June 17 rededication of the newly-remodeled Bethel Post Office and a kick-off to the town's Millennium Celebration.

Bethel was recently designated a "Millennium Community" through a White House program that promotes arts and humanities and the preservation of history. The local program's purpose is to coordinate educational, creative and productive projects to commemorate the millennium.

The week of activities will also include sidewalk sales and specials by Main Street merchants. Other activities will include: music and dancing June 12; a "High Noon Snow Shovel Parade" June 13 from Main Street to the "remains" of snowman "Angus, King of the

Hedge on town common in Bryant Pond to fall

By ALISON ALOISIO

The hedge on Woodstock's town common is destined to be cut down this summer.

"It's unsightly, and it costs (the town) money to maintain," said town manager Vern Maxfield. The hedge -- along with a flagpole and a large spruce tree that is lit at Christmas time -- are located on private property.

Removing the hedge is part of an overall plan to move the common to town property located in front of the Town Office. The lot was purchased by the town about six years ago, after a house located on the site burned. The lot is roughly half an acre in size.

Woodstock has maintained the hedge for many years in exchange for use of the property, which is owned by Richard Chick. The arrangement was formalized in 1990 in a signed agreement between selectmen and Chick.

The hedge and tree have been there "as long as anyone can remember," said Maxfield. But it takes a town worker two or three days' work to trim the hedge, he said. Chick has given his consent to cut it, Maxfield said.

The option of removing the hedge has been discussed by selectmen off and on in recent months. Maxfield said no one he has spoken to has objected to the idea. The tree will be left standing.

Selectmen are considering purchasing a new evergreen tree to place on the new common. It would likely be planted this fall.

"We'll have to do it three months prior to Christmas to let Santa Claus know," said selectman Leon Poland.

ITV -- A VITAL STARTING POINT

To the Editor:

The Telstar ITV staff and students were delighted with last week's article featuring the accomplishments of our students, Diana Howe, Angela Gaudreau and Merrilee Ojeda. Readers may be interested to know that these exemplary students are three of a group of 375 individuals enrolled in ITV classes at the Telstar site since 1989. This spring, a new site record was set -- 84 enrollments by 44 individuals in 47 of the 100 courses available. Telstar is one of the three most active sites in the University of Maine system. We anticipate continued growth in the fall 1999 semester based on inquiries to date.

It was 10 years ago that we were awaiting the fall opening of the Telstar site; this was the result of hard work by many community members who lobbied hard to have Telstar included in the first round of sites. It is great to look back and see the results of that effort and to know that there are more opportunities to come, particularly with the advent of Internet-based courses.

ITV is a vital starting point for individuals wanting to begin or continue their college education. Many students combine classes on ITV or the Internet with more traditional classes on campus. This allows tremendous savings in mileage and time for busy adult students. The schedules for Summer Term II, starting in July and for fall 1999, are available at the Adult Education office at Telstar. There is some scholarship help available as well as information on the financial aid system.

We are very proud of all our students and hope that others will join them in pursuing college educations. Please call the Adult Education office at 824-2780 for further information.

MAKING-TIME-COUNT FORUM

To the Editor:

Recently Bethel was recognized as the first Millennium community in the state of Maine. The Millennium Committee chose as its theme "Making Time Count: Then, Now and Always." We would like to extend an invitation to the general public to attend an informational forum explaining the goals of a Millennium Community on June 8 at 7 p.m. at the Crescent Park School cafeteria.

It is our sincere hope that a local Millennium Council could be formed composed of representatives of every organization, institution and business in Bethel. Together our purpose is to inspire and coordinate educational, creative and productive projects which commemorate this milestone in time, thus bringing our community together in spirit and celebration.

The Millennium Council has three goals.

--On June 17 at 10 a.m. the Post Office on Main Street will be rededicated. There will be an official stamp cancellation marking the event. This event represents honoring the past and celebrates those who worked to keep the Post Office in the center of our village.

--Celebrate the future through the arts and humanities by involving the local schools in the design of a sculpture/sundial that will mark the Millennium with the theme "Making Time Count: Then, Now and Always." This sculpture will use local resources that have been utilized in the area through the ages.

--Create a timeless garden and new walkway paved with commemorative bricks etched with a family name, a place that truly honors the past while projecting into the future.

This is a huge undertaking, and it is our sincerest wish that every citizen in Bethel be a part of this celebration of the Millennium. Please join us on June 8.

MAIN STREET FESTIVAL

To the Editor:

I am encouraged by the number of people in Bethel who are engaged in activities to preserve and celebrate life on Main Street. There is a real sense of the value of what Main Street is and can be and also an appreciation of community gathering and fun in Bethel.

Bethel citizens should feel proud about the return of the Post Office to Main Street and upcoming rededication. An entire week of local events kick off the summer in Bethel and happen to surround this happy event.

Everyone is invited to the activities, which are listed in this issue of The Bethel Citizen and posted around town. Look for "Main Street Bethel Festival: A Week of Local Events."

SAINT NEVER'S DAY THANKS

To the Editor:

As co-chairs of the Bethel Historical Society's St. Never's Day, we would like to say thank you to the many people who helped make it a big success. To all the volunteers who picked up goods for sale; or sorted and priced; or hauled things out and arranged them on the porch and in the yard; acted as cashiers; or helped to clean up afterward; there were too many of you to name individually, but we thank you very, very much for all your time and hard work.

To all who donated items for the sale, the society appreciates your generosity and we thank you for making the sale possible. And, of course, to the many folks who came, browsed, and spent their money, we couldn't have done it without you, so please accept our thanks and gratitude.

Now we're looking forward to the open house and ribbon cutting at the Robinson House on June 3, starting at 6 p.m. We hope to see you all there. Thanks again.

EAST BETHEL SERVICE--Participants gathered at the East Bethel Cemetery Monday, in one of many Memorial Day observations throughout the area, to remember and honor the men and women who served our country in time of war. The gravestone in the foreground is that of Rufus K. Peare, a Civil War veteran who served in Company 1 of the 23rd Maine Regiment. Stanley Howe, executive director of the Bethel Historical Society, spoke at the East Bethel ceremonies. He noted that there are at least 16 Civil War veterans buried in the cemetery here, as well as three participants in the War of 1812. "Whenever I visit cemeteries to remember all those who have gone before us, I can't help but think how much sorrow and heartbreak each one of these markers such as the ones we look out upon represent. Each one has a story that has been lost in most cases," Howe said. "One of the saddest stories in this cemetery is undoubtedly represented by the graves of Sgt. Isaac Estes, his wife Nancy, and daughter Emma, all of whom perished during the Civil War. The story of how an entire family was lost is sketchy, but nonetheless sad; Estes was a member of the famed 20th Maine. Even Gen. Joshua Lawrence Chamberlain took note of his death and recalled what a fine and brave soldier he was." Howe concluded his remarks by urging those assembled to always remember that "the price of freedom is a high one and must always be accompanied by eternal vigilance."

DEDICATION IN WEST PARIS FIRE DEPARTMENT

To the Editor:

Several members of the West Paris Fire Department recently completed intensive two-day training modules at the Cumberland County Fire Attack School in Gorham. One of the courses, "Firefighter One, Module One" is a 16-hour program designed to teach fire behavior basics and standard techniques in firefighting. Combining book-work with video and hands-on learning, instructors put firefighter Rick Cook through the different objectives and skill-stations. This is the first of several modules that all firefighters in the state should be trained in.

Two other members, Chief Gary Latno and First Deputy Chief Ken Bacon, participated in classes to increase their arson awareness and leadership skills. Chief Latno received intense training in "Arson Investigation." As this type of crime increases and filters down to even our smaller communities, local departments must be ready to identify a potential crime scene and know the steps necessary to preserve it. Deputy Chief Bacon attended a National Fire Academy course entitled "Fire Leadership and Administration." Taught by NFA instructor Bob Bohlmann, participants learned valuable ways to retain and recruit members of a volunteer fire department, and many of the state and federal laws governing the fire service were also addressed.

In a separate class conducted by Eastern Maine Technical College and the Maine Fire Training and Education Service, Captain and Training Officer Craig Moore participated in a weekend course on "Structure Ventilation." A vital part of controlling a fire, venting involves knowing how fire spreads, and what can be done to effectively move thermal drafts and smoke to the firefighter's advantage to allow them entrance into a fire building for rescue and successful fire extinguishment with the least amount of damage.

All four members successfully completed their courses and received certificates at their respective levels. Their dedication to learning and their willingness to take a weekend away from other activities is greatly appreciated.

HOST FAMILIES SOUGHT

To the Editor:

Do you know someone from Ghana? How about Venezuela? Japan, maybe? OK, I got it, Poland? If your answer is no, you can make it a yes. If you would like to meet someone from an exotic location, we have a great opportunity for you.

The Bethel advance team for the international organization Up With People needs your help. The international cast of young people between age 17 and 25 from over 22 countries need host families during their three-night visit to Bethel. They will be here Sunday, June 13, through Wednesday, June 16. Host families receive two complimentary tickets to the Tuesday, June 15, show at Telstar Regional High School Gymnasium at 7 p.m.

The visit is being sponsored by Mahoosuc Arts Council, Phil and Mary Chadbourne, The Bethel Citizen, WOXO Radio, and U-Save Auto Rental. For more information, call 824-5982 and ask for the Up With People advance team. We still need 72 beds, and we don't want anyone sleeping on the streets of Bethel.

We hope to be speaking with you soon. Please call us for any information regarding ticket purchases, hosting or getting more information about the Up With People organization.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Citizen welcomes letters to the editor. We hope our readers will regard the Opinion Page of the newspaper as a public forum for discussing any topic they believe to be of interest to the community.

Insofar as possible, we attempt to publish letters without alteration, but we do reserve the right to edit for length, libel, taste and readability.

We do not knowingly publish letters that have been submitted to other newspapers, or letters to third parties, or letters which endorse products, or letters which are unsigned. These guidelines will be waived, however, when doing so is deemed to be in the community's interest.

In the case of letters which are critical of individuals, businesses, institutions or other identifiable groups, the pertinent text of the letter (but not the name of the writer) will be sent prior to publication to the appropriate party for response. This is in the interest of fairness, allowing the criticized party to have their reply published at the same time as the criticism.

When writing, please include your full name, signature, address and telephone number (so that we may verify authorship).

The deadline for letters to the editor is 4:30 p.m. Monday. Letters submitted after that deadline will be considered for publication when circumstances allow.

Briefly

Conkright charged in traffic incident

WEST PARIS--Former Newry Fire Chief Tink Conkright has been charged with ramming his car into a Central Maine Power Co. worker after driving through downed power lines on Route 26 Friday. Conkright, 49, is charged with driving to endanger, leaving the scene of an accident and failure to report an accident by the quickest means available. He was arrested on Route 232 in Rumford about 20 minutes later. The power lines were downed when lumber atop an electric transformer being hauled by CMP workers brushed against utility lines, causing them to snap, according to deputy Tom Albrecht of the Oxford County Sheriff's Department. CMP workers were diverting traffic while waiting for police when Conkright rammed into Byron Condon, 47, who is from Augusta, knocking him down, Albrecht said. Condon was treated at the scene. Conkright was released from the Oxford County Jail on $1,000 bail.

Snowe staffer in Bethel

BETHEL--Office outreach hours for Maine Sen. Olympia Snowe are scheduled for the Bethel Town Office tomorrow (Friday). Regional representative Jane Desaulniers will be available from 2 to 4 p.m. to discuss specific problems, legislative issues or concerns regarding the federal government. For more information call 1-(800)-432-1599.

Davis Park benefit

NEWRY--A recreation event titled "Splash into Summer" will take place June 25 at the Sunday River Adventure Park and will benefit the Davis Park Playground in Bethel. The center's skate park, climbing wall and water slide will all be available for use during the evening. The price is $5 per person or $15 for a family. The Newry Recreation Committee will pay the admission fee for all Newry residents. The proceeds will go toward recent additions to the Davis Park Playground.

Chickadee plates coming

AUGUSTA--Distribution of Maine's new chickadee license plates begins July 1. The new plates will be made available to motorists a few weeks before their current registration expires. It will take a full year for all motorists to receive new plates. A reservation system has been established to allow motorists to retain their current plate number when the new plates are distributed. A form may be obtained at any motor vehicle branch office and municipal offices that process motor vehicle registrations. A $15 fee is required and a copy of the current registration must be included with the form. Anyone who does not wish to reserve a plate number will be issued a chickadee plate bearing the next available number at no additional charge.

WMNF program offers funds

ALBANY--A White Mountain National Forest Program is offering communities $100,000 for projects in and around the forest. The "Community's Partner Program" offers funds for wildlife habitat and recreation projects. One town has proposed a bike path through the forest, for example. The maximum for each project is $20,000, with awards to be made in August. The deadline for applications is July 31. For more information call 1-(603)-466-2713 ext. 226.

Report cites mill violations

BANGOR--A recent report on Maine paper mills shows Mead Oxford Corporation's Rumford plant among several that were cited for violations of the Clean Air Act in the past two years but which escaped with little or no fines. "Dozens of big corporate polluters ... continually break America's clean air laws, often racking up over a dozen infractions at a time, and get off scot-free," said an Environmental Working Group report. "Other polluting facilities get slapped daintily on the wrist with fines that constitute a ludicrously and lucratively small fraction of their multibillion-dollar profits." Other Maine mills noted for violations were Fort James, Lincoln Pulp & Paper Co. and Georgia-Pacific's Woodland facility. But paper company and state Department of Environmental Protection officials said the report presents an inaccurate picture. A Fort James spokesman said the fines were accrued over five years, not two, and were linked to problems with one of the plant's power boilers. They were not for anything "significant or major," said Mark Lindley. He noted some violations lasted for only six minutes and that the company was in compliance 99.9 percent of the time. Jim Brooks, director of DEP's air quality bureau, said the report unfairly singled out a few paper companies for criticism. "I don't think any one mill has a perfect record," he said. "It's unfair to single out these companies and say we're not enforcing the law. We're doing better than a lot of states." EWG said it based its report on analysis of two years' worth of data from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

In-state long-distance rates drop

PORTLAND--Beginning Sunday access rates phone companies pay to use Bell Atlantic phone lines dropped from 14 cents to 5 cents a minute for in-state long-distance calls. The rates were cut from 20 cents to 14 cents a minute last year. But the same day, basic phone service charges went up an average of $2 a month. They increased by $1.50 a month a year ago. Bell Atlantic, which has roughly 683,000 lines to residences and businesses in the state, is expected to generate an extra $16 million a year from the higher monthly charges. That amount, however, does not offset the revenues that Bell expects to lose because of the lower access rates. The new access rate cut could still save customers money, and may result in other phone companies' rates dropping as well.

Tourism workers in short supply

AUGUSTA--A robust economy and gasoline prices that remain low by historical standards are cause for optimism as Maine begins the summer tourist season. But -- like last year -- hotels and restaurants are finding seasonal help is in short supply. "There are very few employable people left," said Kathryn Weare, owner of the Cliff House in York, which hires four to six workers a year from Austria to fill out the staff. One resort manager said he would hire more students if they didn't have to quit work early to return to school. The Maine Innkeepers Association spearheaded an effort to bar public schools and the University of Maine System from starting classes before Labor Day. A bill before the Legislature was unsuccessful, however.

207 can stay until 2001

PORTLAND--A revised forecast by the company that manages the nation's telephone area code system will enable Maine to retain its single area code (207) until at least the end of 2001. Lockheed Martin, which had projected last year that Maine would run out of numbers in the summer of 2000, said last week its forecast had changed. "We're happy because this buys us some time," said Trina Bragdon, a staff attorney at the Maine Public Utilities Commission, which is lobbying to keep the single area code. The PUC says there are about 7.9 million phone number combinations available in Maine, but only 2.1 million are in use. However, a shortage has developed because of the way the numbers are distributed to the hundreds of local, long-distance and wireless phone companies. Federal law requires that phone numbers be distributed to the companies in blocks of 10,000, even if the carrier only needs a small number of them. Sen. Olympia Snowe backs a petition by the PUC to be allowed to distribute the numbers in blocks of 1,000. "I think it's totally unnecessary to divide the state up into another area code. We have enough (numbers) under the existing area code that represents five times Maine's population," she said. Some phone companies oppose the request because they say it would create a new burden on the industry. A decision on the issue will be made by the Federal Communications Commission within a few months. Sen. Susan Collins introduced legislation in April that would force the FCC to develop a national plan for distributing phone numbers by the end of next year. Collins' legislation would grant public utility commissions the authority to implement state conservation measures while the FCC develops the national plan.

From the Bethel Police Log: ATVers collide

At 6:39 p.m. on May 30 police were called to the scene of an ATV accident with two subjects injured. The complainant advised two juveniles were riding ATVs and collided. The accident occurred on off-road trails, so a game warden was advised.

Friday, May 28

At 11:50 a.m. police observed a tank-type truck approaching at high speed (66 miles per hour) on Route 26. The officer stopped the truck and checked the driver's license and registration. The license had been suspended for failure to fill out a form for an accident. The driver was given a summons for speeding and a summons for OAS. Later in the day, the subject produced a receipt from the Department of Motor Vehicles and a 10-day temporary license. After a check with DMV, the officer "tore up" the summons.

Saturday, May 29

At 6:20 p.m. police stopped a subject on the Parkway for running a stop sign. A check showed his license was suspended in Massachusetts and not on file in Maine. Lawrence S. Murphy of Abington, Mass., was issued a summons for operating without a license and for failure to stop at a stop sign.

At 1:30 a.m. police stopped a subject on Chapman Street for swerving and operating left of the center of the road. He was given field sobriety tests. James J. Sweetser, 41, of Gorham, N.H., was arrested for OUI. He was taken to the Oxford County Jail, issued a summons and held in lieu of bail.

Sunday, May 30

At 7:50 a.m. police stopped a subject for speeding on the Songo Pond Road. A license check showed a suspended status for failure to pay a fine. Kelley Mathias, 21, of Bethel was summonsed for the offense.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log, but does not include all reports of police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies. An answering machine takes calls when an officer is not in the office.

From the Bethel Town Office:

The month of June kicks-off a fundraising campaign for the Bethel Fire Department's 'Jaws of Life' account. This account, first created 10 years ago by a fundraising campaign, is maintained by the Fire Department for necessary repairs, parts, or replacement of the 'Jaws of Life' equipment. Many people realize that this tool is invaluable at car accidents to cut through metal to extract the crash victims. Over the years, the use of this tool has meant the difference of 'life or death' for residents, as well as travelers through our town. Many of us personally know someone who has been rescued by the Bethel Fire Department responding to a mutual aid call for the 'Jaws of Life' tool. In addition to the equipment, the department maintains active training for firemen in its use.

A recent mutual aid call for the 'Jaws' caused a need for substantial repair and consideration of the purchase of a newer, up-to-date device. Purchase of this equipment is based on fundraising, and is not included as a normal budget expense. The Bethel Fire Department's goal is to raise the almost $10,000 needed for a new tool purchase. We are counting on the same financial commitment citizen's showed years ago by contributing toward this fund.

Tax deductible contributions can be made out to the Town of Bethel Fire Department, with a memo noting 'Jaws of Life Fund'. Donors, who wish to remain anonymous, please indicate so in an enclosed note. The success of the campaign will be listed in the Bethel Citizen, the town register, and on a Fire Station wall certificate.

Also, mark your calendars for Saturday, June 19, as a day of family and evening fun towards this campaign and safety training. The Bethel Fire Department is holding a pig and turkey roast, with plenty of food and a vegetarian buffet, at the American Legion Hall, in Locke Mills on the Gore Road.

Family events include an actual 'Jaws of Life' demonstration on junk cars, a fire hose shootin' review of the new fire truck, and a music and variety show for the kids during suppertime. The evening's event will be a country rock hoot night featuring local bands and musicians to enjoy and dance until midnight.

Because the 'Jaws of Life' is used by mutual aid agreement with surrounding towns all area citizens are welcome to mail in contributions and join us on June 19 when we put the fun in fundraising. Keep your eyes open for posters and more information.

story of college students whose campus youth center is destroyed by a hate group. The students work to restore the center. The show begins at 7 p.m. in the Telstar gym.

As in the other communities UWP visits, some of the young people from the advance team have already been visible in the community. They helped out at the Crescent Park School Mayfair May 22, and also volunteered in a Telstar Middle School emergency medical training program.

On show day, 20 cast members will volunteer in a project to clean up Odeon Hall, above the Bethel Town Office.

The cast is scheduled to arrive on June 13. Many host families are still needed. Anyone interested in offering a bed to a member may call the UWP office at 824-5982.

and the resort's general rate of growth."

So far, that pace has been a bit slower than initially expected.

At the time the timeshare project was announced, a Marriott spokesman said the company hoped to have units ready to accommodate skiers by the beginning of the 1999-2000 season.

That's now unlikely, said Seamans. "The Marriott is moving forward, but we are not sure of the timetable at this point."

He said Sunday River and Marriott were working on finalizing the agreement, and on site work and architecture, but do not plan to begin construction this summer.

Seamans denied the Marriott deal was being held up by the tight financial situation of the skiway and ASC.

"That's true of some other projects, he said, "but not of the Marriott project. The Sunday River/Marriott deal is part of a larger deal with ASC and we're ironing out all the details."

"The Jordan Village itself is going forward, but I would say the pace of everything has slowed a bit for the summer."

One of the "other projects" that has been directly affected by the tight-money situation is the 18-hole championship golf course announced last year for Jordan Bowl.

When the project was announced last year, skiway officials said the first tee time would be in the summer of 2000.

That date is has now been pushed back, Seamans said.

"The golf course was cut this winter, all the trees were logged, and we're going to do some work this summer, mostly from an erosion standpoint," he said.

"We're going to spend some capital on the golf course," he said, but there is no firm timetable at this point for its completion."

Seamans said the resort has no plans to save money by going ahead with a scaled-back version of the original plan.

The course, he said, "is all laid out. It's a Robert Trent Jones Jr. course, and we don't want to cut any corners -- we'll be doing it right when we do it."

Summer jobs here down slightly

Back in the existing part of the skiway, the 1998-99 season was "an OK year," Seamans said.

"We started out with the warm fall and did much better the second half of the year. We did not have the year we'd hoped for, but I feel good that the people who did come to the resort had a good experience, and we heard good things about what was new this year."

Seamans said the past year also provided valuable experience for a number of new staff members at the skiway.

"I feel real confident in continuing to grow," he said, "and I am confident that Jordan Village will speed up in the near future."

Summer employment at the resort is "slightly lower" than last year he said. "We don't have quite as many projects going on, and we definitely have not been able to keep as many people on as we'd like."

"But with both hotels being full service it keeps more folks around," he said. And the adventure center and mountain park will add staff when they open full time by the end of the month.

The resort also hopes to build two four-unit townhouses in the Locke Mountain complex, Seamans said, but needs to sell "a couple more units before beginning construction on those. And that would be a great help for employment this summer."

Seamans conceded the tight financial situation has led "to a lot of rumors, and we just want to keep our staff informed of the real picture, and we want everybody to know the company is healthy and going forward. We didn't have the best year, but that's the business we're in, so much is dependent on the weather."

And the continuing unusually warm weather does have some upside, he said: "We're looking forward to a good water-slide summer. We should have opened it this weekend."

Town News

also down, to $298.9 million from $317.4 for the same period of the preceding fiscal year.

Total skier visits for the year ended May 23 dropped to nearly 5.1 million, compared to more than 5.3 million in the previous year.

However, ASC's resort revenues (which do not include real estate sales) rose 7 percent during the third quarter of this year.

ASC's chief financial officer Mark J. Miller said: "Driven by higher lift ticket yields and healthy increases in our ancillary business segments, particularly lodging and skier development, we achieved higher resort revenues this quarter than the third quarter of fiscal 1998, despite an overall lower number of skier visits. In doing so, we overcame many of the challenges presented by this year's unseasonably warm winter season, which resulted in a lack of industry-wide momentum entering the third quarter."

"Additionally, in late April, we retained two leading investment banks to evaluate the financial alternatives that will best allow us to reduce our leverage, pursue our growth strategy and recognize greater shareholder value," Miller said. Les Otten, ASC's chief executive officer said: "Our commitment to new skiers through our Learn to Ski Discovery Centers was received with overwhelming enthusiasm during the third quarter. We are confident that this expansion in our skier development business will provide sustained growth as we lead the industry in attracting and retaining new participants to on-snow sports."

"Our real estate business also made significant strides during the third quarter, Otten said. "With skier visits returning to more normal levels during the quarter, we saw a corresponding increase in real estate sales in the East, and pre-sales at Steamboat and the Canyons returned to healthy levels."

"Looking ahead, we remain confident about the prospects for our business, both in real estate and resorts. While the 1998-1999 ski season did not meet our initial expectations due to protracted poor weather conditions, Otten said, "we are taking the steps necessary to position American Skiing Company for future success and sustained growth."

Gould Academy recognizes undergrads

Gould Academy honored 28 students at its annual Underclass Awards and National Honor Society Induction Ceremony on Sunday, May 23. In addition, the 19 juniors who were elected by their peers and the faculty to serve as student proctors, the highest student leadership positions at the Academy, for the 1999-00 school year were announced and introduced.

New members of the National Honor Society, as voted by the faculty, are sophomore Bob Bruce of Caratunk; juniors Talia Connery of Rye, N.H., Molly Gray of Cranberry Island, Nell Rier of Machias, and Jennifer Hickey, Marty Odlin and Sarah Rackliffe, all from Bethel; and seniors Erin Cianchette of Falmouth, Tate Lacey of Tiburon, Calif., Robin Gertner of Sodas, N.Y., and Bethel's Sarah Crocker, Damaris Drummond and Anna Sysko.

Academic book prizes are awarded to the top students in the ninth, 10th, and 11th grades by department and individual courses. Book prizes for English were awarded to Chelsea Marshall of Bethel, Elizabeth Baribeau of Bethel and Jedediah Beach of Wilton.

Mathematics book prizes were awarded to Katie McCann of Greenville, Katherine Davison of Bethel, and Matthew Linn of Belfast.

The History department awarded its book prizes to Katie McCann, Bob Bruce, and Fern Hickey.

Elizabeth Baribeau received the French prize while Jedediah Beach was honored for his Spanish studies.

The prize for best student in the Earth Systems science class was awarded to freshman Emily Bearse of Bridgton. Elizabeth Baribeau and Bob Bruce were awarded the academic book prizes for Biology, and Katie Davison received the prize for Chemistry. Freshman Dai Kamamoto of Hyogo, Japan, sophomore Christy Kim of Seoul Korea, and juniors Houston Dupre of Houston, Tex. and Sally Kim of Seoul, Korea were all honored for their excellence in art.

Several special named prizes were also awarded. The Rensselaer Award is given to the student in the junior class with the highest combined average in science and mathematics. Marty Odlin of Bethel is the 1999 recipient.

Molly Gray won the Wellesley Book Award, which is presented by the Western Maine Wellesley College Club to a female member of the junior class with exceptional qualities in the areas of academic performance, character, and contributions to extracurricular and/or community life.

Jedediah Beach was selected as the recipient of the Edmond J. Vachon Award, created by Gould Academy in honor of Headmaster Emeritus Vachon, which is presented annually to a member of the junior class who exemplifies outstanding contribution to the school and achievement in the community.

The Bausch and Lomb Science Award, awarded to a top member of the junior class "in recognition of outstanding academic achievement and superior intellectual promise in the field of science" was presented to Andrew Drummond of Center Conway, N.H.

The Annie Daley Courchesne Award, given in memory of Courchesne, a member of the class of 1986, celebrates the spirit of student involvement in social, political, and environmental causes. Jonathan Gould of Hanover is the 1999 recipient.

Molly Gray, Jedediah Beach and Chris Monaco of Beverly, Mass. were chosen to serve as head proctors for next year. Also elected to serve as proctors were Orlin Watson of Durham, Michael "Tiger" Ricker of Verona, Wis., Seung Ho Lee of Seoul, Korea, Laura Jenks of Woodstock, Vt., Juliana Montgomery of Philadelphia, Penn., Besty Capone of Bridgton, Tyler Katzenberg of Middlesex, Vt., Andrew Drummond, Matt Linn, Nell Rier, Talia Connery, and Bethel's Marty Odlin, Emily Parsons, Sarah Marshall, Sarah Rackliffe and Jennifer Hickey.

School Sports

High School Varsity Baseball

Telstar 8, Leavitt 2; May 26--Telstar's Greg Koch had a two-run homer in a win over Leavitt. Josh Mowery got the win on the mound.

High School J.V. Baseball

Leavitt 4, Telstar 3; May 28--Telstar's Chris Szente went four-for-four and pitched well in a losing cause. Matt Newell had three RBIs on a bases-loaded double. Josh Aylward displayed exceptional defensive play at shortstop, said coach Charlie Newell.

High School Boys' Track

Western Class C Regional Championships, May 29--Telstar's Jon Shaw tied for third in the high jump, qualifying for Saturday's Class C State Championships in Orono.

High School Girls' Track

Western Class C Regional Championships, May 29--Telstar's Abbie Beane took second in the 400-meters and third in the long jump as the Rebels finished sixth in a field of 18 teams at Sanford. Other scorers: Gail Aloisio--second, pole vault; sixth, 100m; Emily Phillips--fourth, high jump; Malinda Gilbert--sixth, 200m; Anna Willard--sixth, 800 and 1,600m; 4x100 relay team of Nikki Roberts, Phillips, Aloisio, and Gilbert--third. Beane set a school record of 62.7 seconds in the 400m. All the Telstar tracksters qualified for Saturday's Class C State Championships in Orono.

Middle School Baseball

Telstar 12, Mountain Valley 6; May 26--Telstar's Kane Olson had three hits, including a home run, as the Rebels defeated Mountain Valley in Sandy Andy playoff competition. Josh Appleby and Jeremy Benson also homered for the Rebels.

Telstar teams go to post-season

The Telstar High School varsity softball team defeated Traip Academy 7-5 Tuesday in preliminary round Western Class C playoff action.

The Rebels were seeded ninth while Traip was rated eighth. The Rebels play #1-ranked Hall-Dale today (Thursday) at 3 p.m. at Hall-Dale in the quarterfinal round.

Baseball squad takes on Jay

The Telstar varsity baseball team also plays today, facing off against Jay in a quarterfinal playoff. The game starts at 3:30 p.m. at Telstar. The baseball Rebels are seeded third going into the post-season, with a record of 14-2. Jay is seeded sixth with a 9-7 record.

and Lee and Virginia Hutchins, graduated Cum Laude from Colby College on May 23, with a B.A. degree in psychology. She is employed by Massachusetts General Hospital in the research department. A group of 20 relatives attended the graduation.

June Abbott was a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital several days last week.

Arlene Brown and Eldon Greenleaf visited the cemetery on Thursday in Farmington and Anson.

Harry MacMunn is a surgical patient at CMMC in Lewiston.

Harvey Sweetser is home from Stephens Memorial Hospital, following knee surgery.

Muriel Faudi is at Ledgeview
Nursing Home.

Rhonda and Robert Lichenstein and son visited Randal and Sarah Stevens over the weekend.

Mike and Barbara Brown are home from Florida.

Joan Wright and daughter, Catharine, of Standish and University of Maine at Orono were weekend guests of John and Arlene Greenleaf.

Sharon and Peter Kaiser of Keene, N.H., were weekend guests of Dot and Gary York.

Kathryn Swain and son, Blaine
Ayott, of Concord, N.H., visited Ruel and Maureen Swain over the weekend.

Jean McGuire hosted a cookout with Megan McGuire, Mike Jime-nez and dog Daphne of North
Conway, N.H., and Mike, Eileen,
Brandon, Sean and Katie McGuire, who was celebrating her third birthday.

A telephone call from Kathryn
Davis Hamlin, Longmeadow,
Mass., made my Memorial Day. It was wonderful. She had read about Songo Pond Beach in The Citizen.
We reminisced about the good old days when we went swimming every day. There was a float with a tower, slide and diving board in those days. Mr. Clough dragged a rake through the beach water to clear up leaves that had collected.

Michael Davis and family of Norway and his mother, Amy
Davis, spent Sunday at their Songo
Pond cottage.

Amy Davis attended the Oxford
Hills Middle School Pops Concert
Tuesday. It included chorus, orchestra and jazz band. Granddaughter Nora Davis was concert master of the orchestra, playing the violin.

Last Friday, Ed Dorion and Mary
Nutter of Portland visited his sister.

Thanks for the avalanche of cards and well wishes while I was in the hospital and since returning home. Thanks, also, to Mary Keniston for the fine job she did while filling in for me.

The Bethel House

by Ruth Cummings
The Rev. Linwood Hanson, former pastor of Bryant Pond Baptist Church, was guest speaker at the Bethel Alliance Church on Sunday. He delivered a very nice sermon and there was a very good attendance.

Pastor Rick sang a solo accompanied by Judy Webster on the piano. My favorite hymn for the day was "Surrender All."

Margaret Quinlan visited Irene Russell on Sunday.

Paul Bartlett visited his mother, Helena Bartlett, at the Bethel House recently.

I received a letter from Lori DeMarco recently and she said that Dr. Joe is doing quite well in his chiropractic business in Revere, Mass., as well as spending some days working with a massage therapist in Braintree. She said she had been ill with the flu and that little Emily had also been ill. Everyone was better, however, and little Emily is creeping all over the place. Joey will be four in August and he is doing fine and is taking skating lessons.

Rebecca Ricker was in Lewiston recently to see a doctor.

I was asked recently if I was angry with David for selling out to Rite Aid. I said "No, but why do you ask?" They then said because I did not trade at Rite Aid. I told them that the reason for that was that when I asked the prices of my prescription drugs at Rite Aid they were a whole lot higher than I had been paying at Preb's. So I took a friend's advice and called Ketter's and found their prices about like I had been paying at Preb's. So of course I went to Ketter's. If I cannot get down there, they will mail my prescriptions and they are here the next morning if I get my order in before noon.

Becky and Abbie Cummings were here for a short visit on Sunday.

Elaine Dresser visited me on Monday and we played two games of cribbage. We each won a game.

Vada Glover spent the day with me on Tuesday. We went to the store, to the Riverside and Head of the Tide Cemeteries and then rode up to Screw Auger Falls. We had a great dinner at the Frozen Logger in Bryant Pond and at night we went to the Rebel for a sandwich. We also played cribbage and she gained on me. I am only one game ahead now in 235.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte

The weather was glorious for Memorial Day weekend, although the black flies and mosquitoes did their utmost to disturb the tranquility. The lilacs cooperated and bloomed on May 30. We usually don't see them till around June 6. The lupine should put on their show in about seven or eight days. The activity level on the lake was higher than ever. The public landing in Cambridge was packed with cars, trucks and boat trailers. The Bull Moose Campground and the Umbagog Family Campground had quite a number of campers. Wilderness campgrounds around the lake were well used.

It was good to hear the lawn mowers and smell of the cut grass again. There is no "in between" in Upton. It is winter one week and then overnight it is glorious summer.

There were many visitors to the cemetery, which, thanks to Roger Lavallee's extra attention, was trimmed to perfection. We thank the Mundt-Allen Legion Post for placing flags on our veterans' graves reminding us that Memorial Day was intended to honor those who gave service to our country. There were many visitors in town using their camps or just hanging out with family and friends. Among those spending the weekend in God's country were Carl and Carolyn Taylor, their guests Ernie and Jean Pinkham, four generations of the Williamson family, the Hamel family, Sandy and Gene Wixom, David and Pok Sun Lane, Clyde and Barbara Stratton, Frank Tucker and family, and Jeanette and Lionel Roy. Joe and Penny Bernier hosted many campers, picnickers and friends at Heritage Farm. There were over 45 guests. Also visiting on Back Street were John and Avis Arata, Richard and Gerry Guay, the Regis Cameron family and the Connelly family.

George and Simone Hamel have returned from a Mediterranean cruise. They visited Greece, Italy, Spain, Monte Carlo and many other ports. George tells me that it has not rained in four years in the section of Greece that they toured.

Elsie Fuller, who will be 88 years old this year, is planning to have a small garden again. This very wise lady does not plant till the full moon has passed. She knows that many people plant too early, only to find that Jack Frost is still hovering in Upton.

Last week, I stated that the Abbott Family reunion was to be held on July 24. Sylvia Wight called and told me that is the Barnett Family reunion -- I apologize for my error.

Vi Bernier and Sue Angevine have been getting the library ready for a projected opening date of Saturday, June 5.

Every day we receive lots of junk mail and requests for fund donations to various organizations. Most are filed in the circular file. The other day we received one that beats them all. You've seen "Adopt a Highway" or "Adopt a Stray Pet" I'm sure. This circular wanted us to "Adopt a Bat." It was not a joke. It named seven kinds of bats, but not our dubious friend, the little brown bat. I'm not insulted. We have billions of bugs up here and therefore a corresponding number of bats. I know that they are out there, but I just don't want to adopt or touch one. If you are interested in joining, the address is: Bat Conservation International, P.O. Box 162603, Austin, Texas 78716.

Liz and Walter Stanczyk have a three toed, black backed woodpecker family in the woods behind their house. They have had these birds before and are familiar with their call, even though they haven't seen them this year. The baby bird never shuts up and demands constant attention from the parent birds. These are a very elusive bird. They live in the deep evergreen forest. They have a black back, white under parts and black and white barred sides. The males have a yellow cap. The Black Back, Three Toed Woodpecker is the bird of the week.

On June 6, the First Congregational Church of Andover will honor the graduation of Jane Rich from Bangor Theological Seminary. The celebration will be held during regular church services, starting at 10 a.m. Members of the congregation, choir, deacons and Tres Diastas will participate. Community members are invited to join in this celebration. There will be a time of refreshment and fellowship immediately following the services.

The Andover Service Circle is a community-oriented group dedicated to serving the needs of young and old alike. At some time, the Andover Service Circle will likely extend a kindness to you, your family, or someone close to you. Call any one of the members for information. Please help the circle's continuing service by supporting its annual Community Birthday Calendar drive. If you are not contacted by a member during the months of May and June, please call Judy Michaud at 392-1221 to place your order.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Meisner spent a week recently visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haney (Roberta Abbott) and family in McLeansboro, Ill. They enjoyed 80-degree weather while there and toured parts of Kentucky as well.

North Newry

by
Gil Seeley

Call to Worship at the Newry Community Church was held May 23 at 9 a.m. with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. The prelude was by Jay Hanscom and a responsive reading by Bob Munro. The Message of the Day was "The Holy Spirit" from St. John 17:39. "But this spoke he of the Spirit, which they believe on Him should receive; for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; because that Jesus was not yet glorified." A prayer followed, hymn, benediction and postlude. Amen.

We took to the road, Karlene, Ras and I, heading to Stratton, to visit with Ras' father, Aaron Bachelier, who is 97 years old. We headed toward Errol and took Route 16. This was after lunch on Saturday, May 22. En route we spotted about five moose and one deer, all at different places. Karlene had brought her camera and took some pictures. It was great to see so many wild animals during the day. We landed almost in the old man's backyard. We visited a short while with Aaron's daughter and his granddaughter, who were also there. We headed back home by way of Farmington and stopped at Burger King for supper.

Do you remember our native son, artist Brent Bachelier, who went to Providence, R.I. to seek his fortune? He graduated from the School of Design in 1989 with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in sculpture and started his business called "Neapolis Creation" on June 5, 1989, and continued to create murals, signs, graphics and illustrations, as well as a wide variety of custom artworks for a multitude of for-profit businesses and also for nonprofit organizations. He teaches at many local places, including the Learning Connection, the Trudeau Center (retarded adults), City Arts (an inner city arts organization), as well as local community centers and schools on a freelance basis. Well, he is pretty busy. Lately, he just graduated from the Rhode Island College on May 20 with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in graphics and design. Anyone who wishes to contact him can do so at 193 Lenox Ave., Providence, RI 02907.

The Recreation Committee has a number of things coming up. A trip to Storyland will be Monday, June 21; an evening at Sunday River's Adventure Center on Friday, June 25; and $30 camperships are being offered for Newry children to attend Camp Sunday River.

To sign up for Storyland, call Leslie Bonney at 824-0284 by Saturday, June 12. Newry children will receive free admission but must sign up by the 12th and be at Storyland by 9 a.m. on the 21st.

June 25 will be a fun evening at the Sunday River Adventure Center. There is a water slide, climbing wall, skateboard park and B/X bike course. The price will be $5 per person or $15 for a family. From 5 to 7 p.m. the center will be open as a fundraiser for Davis Park in Bethel. The recreation committee is making this evening of fun available to Newry residents free of charge. No sign up is necessary but please bring ID.

And lastly, $30 camperships are being offered to Newry children to attend Camp Sunday River. More information will follow, or call Nancy Babcock at 824-2115.

Hi readers. It seems that the weeks roll right around fast nowadays. Frances Grant and I went to the Chapman Cemetery in Gilead and put flowers on our Aunt Goldie Wight, and Fred and girls' graves one day recently. The tulips planted there last fall were blossomed really pretty.

People -- look out. Molly Nelson got her driver's license. She got it on the very first test. Congratulations, Molly.

Our sympathy and prayers are with the family and friends of Minnie White, who passed away this past week. She used to run a turkey farm here in Lynchfield years ago. She was a hard worker and a good sport.

What is with the wild animals here in Stoneham? First, a real live owl flew through the open window of Craig Adams' truck, striking him in the face. It nearly knocked him out and it pushed him over to the passenger side. He has a black eye from it. What a surprise that must have been.

Now, a real live bear has been seen by several people on different occasions. Larry Fox saw it up by Joyce White and Debra Folsom's houses. Chet Adams saw it by his house and Albert Nelson Sr. saw it last night at 4:30 p.m. when out walking Asta. Asta was busy and didn't see it, but it didn't take Albert long to pull her right along home real quick. He didn't finish his walk. It was just over here by the Rescue Barn and bridge.

Okay, folks, listen up. The busy Community Events Committee is putting on a spaghetti supper at the community room at the Fire Station on June 5 from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. They will have meat and plain sauce, salads, coffee, punch and desserts. The prices are $5 for adults and $3 for children 12 and under. Let's all support them.

Hannah F. Richardson Tent 19 Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War met on Wednesday, May 26, for a cookout at the East Stoneham Church Vestry at 5:30 p.m. Members from Bryant Pond and Norway joined us there. This was to help celebrate the two years that Mary Beth Jones has been D.U.V. department president. Afterward we all went over to the K. of P. Hall for our regular meeting and Memorial program remembering our deceased members and laying on of the red, white and blue carnations as their names were read. There were 19 Daughters and one son of a veteran there. It was a nice evening all around and after the meeting a beautiful cake and punch were served. Congratulations cards and gifts were presented to Mary Beth.

We were honored and pleased to have our National D.U.V. President Gail Butterfield present and she gave a brief few words about her travels as national president to the other tents and historic places of Veterans of the Civil War. We were also pleased to have Emogene Staples with us. Emogene is 100 years old.

Monika and Ed Spooner celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary recently at her sister's, Regina and Van Sullivan's. This was a large family gathering put on by Josh Spooner and Kimberly and Derek DeSanctis.

June and we like to see the shadows lie in the valley as the sun tips the crest of the mountains.

June -- the month of many kinds of things. It has its own tranquility. It's a time of growth and the coming of summer. There is the fragrance of the lily-of-the-valley, the mist of which floats over the lawns. One can almost hear the grass grow. Everything is in its top greenness with hundreds of odors blended into one.

June -- called the month of roses even though the best bloom may not come until July.

June -- a time of wild strawberries red and juicy.

June -- with new mown hay as fragrant as lilacs, dewy on a May morn.

Yes, June is many things. We hope it brings sun with rays to penetrate into every crevice of the earth. We'll go to bed with windows hoisted while outside the moon gleams on the dark mass of trees and makes a path across the pond to the hill beyond.

The frogs' voices still float but not as loud as a month ago. Right now the dandelions and apple blossoms are lovely.

Rosebush sings to me. The woodland is filled with beauty, a living majestic portrait of peace and tranquility. One must be happy.

Ann and I attended the birthday party in West Paris for Aarne Jarvenpaa on Saturday. He was a neighbor for many years.

Bradly went fishing at Moosehead Lake over the weekend. It's a very busy time now with so much to be done for summer.

I saw the mother ducks with their babies on Sunday. One mother had 10 and the other had eight. What a lovely picture.

We are sorry to hear that Margaret Clements of Swanville died recently. Mrs. Clements is the mother of the late Nick Clements. Charlotte Thompson is visiting her daughter, Marta Clements, for a month or so.

Graduates for the Class of 1999 from South Woodstock or nearby are: Jeff Chandler, Staci Littlehale, Cylas Cash, Neil Thurlow, Brandy Poland, Jaime Leonard, Tim Hilden, Emily Phillips and my granddaughter, Jessie Hart. Congratulations to all.

Congratulations go out to Jan Cox, who has completed four certifications that were required for MHIT 1. She also completed nine college credits towards MHIT 2. There will be a graduation at the Blaine House in Augusta that Jan will be in. She has been studying nine months. Her children, Desman and Desirae, are very proud of their mother for her accomplishments.

A 90th birthday party was held for Aarne Jarvenpaa at the Finnish American Society Hall. About 70 people attended. The celebration was given by six of his nieces and grandnieces. Several people told of memories of past years of knowing Aarne. It was held as an open house and people stopped by during the day. Finnish music was played and many danced to the music. Refreshments were served. A good time was enjoyed by everyone, many who had not seen Aarne for a while.

We have new neighbors across the road. They are Mr. and Mrs. Blazier. We wish them much happiness and pleasure in their new home and welcome them to South Woodstock.

Several attended the baby shower for Connie Rice at Judy Brown's home on Sunday. Connie received many useful and cute presents.

Larry Billings, curator of the Woodstock Historical Society, reports that he has given the area schools the society's Internet address so students can access it. The society takes advantage of new technology while dealing with the past.

We certainly have had some nice mornings lately even if there were showers in the afternoon. Marcia says she goes to work in nice weather and comes home in rain. She notices because she walks the three-quarters of a mile most days. Here we notice because we've (get the "we've"), Andy, has been putting in the plants but he says the showers perk them up and I guess he's right.

We have seen about four mama ducks with babies, one has 13, one has nine, another five and then one has four. I notice when there are large numbers that they tend to lose more babies, I presume by accident not design. One mama took her babies across the road because people were fishing at the culvert. I didn't think that was particularly smart but maybe it was the duck. Anyway, there is now a cute sign saying "duck crossing." Bet I could guess who put it there, but I won't.

Princess was sick a couple of days this week. She kept going to the car when she was out and I told Andy I thought she wanted to go to the doctor. He laughed at me, but years ago my dog "Chum" hated to ride, but if he didn't feel well he'd get into my uncle's car the minute he opened the door. Anyhow, we took her and she had impacted glands and after the treatment she felt much better.

We certainly have been busy this week. Monday evening we had a housewares party here. Debbie Brown demonstrated. She said it was her 13th party and we had 13 people here. I'm not sure what that is supposed to signify, if anything. I had a good time and I hope everyone else did. Those present besides Debbie, Owen, Andy and I, were Debbie Grant, Crystal Grant, Mary Stone, Denise Swan, Crystal Lake, Ann Fitzmorris, Rhonda Mitchell, Carolyn Colby and Gerry Shimamura.

Ann Fitzmorris and I were in the Norway area on Wednesday. We had lunch at an area restaurant and Ann did some shopping. It is crazy there at Wal-Mart with all the construction going on. The entrance has been moved, no one knew where the motorized carts had been put and the way they have blocked off aisles, I don't see how anyone can use them anyway in some places. But all the construction hasn't deterred shoppers any that I can see. It was certainly busy enough and when we got to the grocery store, there were even more shoppers. Ann reminded me it was a holiday weekend that was coming up. Guess everyone is planning a cookout except us. I keep a low profile on Memorial Day.

The potluck supper last Friday night at the Universalist Church was well attended and there was a nice variety of food. After supper we were entertained by Gary Inman and Lesley Rouse with slides and very interesting talk on their experiences in China. This was their second trip to China. This time they adopted a cute little baby, Ani. The first trip they returned with a bright-eyed girl named Caii. They seem like a really happy family.

The West Paris Historical Society is putting on a supper for the Maine Municipal Association on Wednesday night.

Twelve members of Forward Fellowship, with the Rev. Joy Gasta gathered for their annual outing to the Colonial Restaurant in Bridgton. It was a very nice evening.

We were in North Conway, N.H., recently with Vicky and Sandy Sanborn, Brant and Caroline to celebrate Caroline's seventh birthday. She is our only granddaughter.

Glad that Maxine Cram is getting along well after her surgery last Friday.

Bryant Pond

by
Alice Hoyt
Congratulations to Anita and David Shaw of Bryant Pond, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary this month.

On the first Sunday of May, Joe Perham gave a sermon on the Bryant Pond Universalist Church. He also sang a beautiful song called "Scarlet Ribbons." This past Sunday, Joseph Sirois gave a sermon on "Spirituality" and how it means to treat other people as you would like to be treated. Den Corrin played the guitar as several men accompanied him singing "Amazing Grace." Den is trying very hard to revitalize the church so the congregation becomes larger. The Universalist Church is open to any religion. Church services are on the first and third Sundays of each month at 9 a.m.

A large moose was seen crossing Route 26 on Merryfield Hill this past week. Sometimes the black flies cause them to walk out of the woods.
Thank you to all who helped clean the cemeteries. They look very good just in time for Memorial Day. Also looking good is the Village Store with its new floor and flowers. Has anyone noticed the flowering crab tree at the post office? It is beautiful. The Maine Conservation School's office is now in the Stonehouse. The Stonehouse has a lot of renovations. New classrooms have also been built in the Stonehouse.
The Bagleys from Florida have returned to Bryant Pond. They rent a house on Route 26 for the summer, and they have done so for the last few years.

Annie Cushman, daughter of Matt and Nancy Cushman, turned two years old on May 17.
Someone sent me all the above news. I would like to thank them. But would you please include your name and telephone number so I could contact you if I need be. Thank you.
Services at the Bryant Pond Baptist Church are each Sunday. Sunday School for all ages is at 9:15 a.m. and services are at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. On Wednesday there is a prayer meeting at 7 p.m.; Thursday is Women's Bible Study at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. and also Men's Discipleship Class at 7 p.m.; Saturday is choir practice at the Keniston's at 4 p.m. Looking ahead: June 13 is promotion Sunday at Sunday School and Tom Gibbons, missionary to Argentina, will speak at the morning service; on June 16 Missionary Hattie Kneeland will speak at the prayer meeting, and on June 20 Winfield Holman will give an update of his ministry at the morning service. On Channel IV TV a rebroadcast of the Sunday services is on Saturday at 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. and Thursday is Bryant Pond Hour at 4 and 7 p.m.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will meet on Thursday, June 3, at the Country Way.
Franklin Grange 124 will meet on Monday, June 7. The program is Memorial and Election of Officers.
The Woodstock High School Alumni Banquet will be held at the American Legion Hall in Locke Mills on June 12. The supper is at 6 p.m. Special guests are the classes of 1929, 1939, 1949 and Telstar seniors from Woodstock and Greenwood.

Five members of Judith Grover Tent 17 D.U.V. attended the cook-out and meeting honoring the department president, Mary G. Jones at East Stoneham, on Wednesday.
Curator Larry Billings has given the Historical Society a fine print of a ship in a very elegant frame. The Internet address for the Historical Society is posted on the bulletin board near the entrance to the museum and the library also has it. The historical society fosters greater awareness of our heritage and traditions. It is an important fixture in the community after 20 years and benefits everyone. You can participate in its success as a member or a supporter. Take an interest in this worthwhile organization.
It has been brought to my attention that someone is removing the markers on soldiers' graves where we put the flags. They aren't cheap to buy and it would be much appreciated if they were returned. It's pretty low to steal from the dead, especially a veteran.

East Bethel

Sunday River Valley

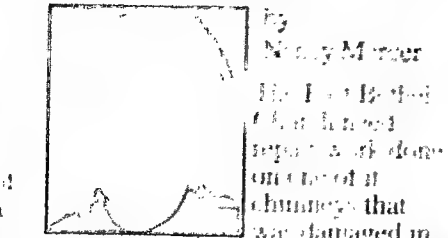

For the past 10 years, more than 100 people have gathered in the town of East Bethel to celebrate Memorial Day. The celebration is held on the grounds of the East Bethel Cemetery, which is located on the corner of the intersection of the road and the cemetery. Since I have been writing this column, I have on several occasions been accused of lacking variety in some of my stories. Now, I stand behind the context of every story I write, unless you provide me with a better story. I think I have succeeded to some extent, at least in part of the above. I even have Mike Daniels at The Citizen wondering about some of my articles. He phoned my wife to verify the validity of my story about the Speckled Mountain steer. "Sandy, a few weeks ago, how does he know she wouldn't lie to back me up? You know, a wife cannot be forced to testify against her spouse."

ADULT ED GRADS—The Class of 1999 for SAD44 Adult Education graduated May 26 in ceremonies at the Bethel Inn. The speaker was Patricia Vampatella, assistant dean of academic affairs at Central Maine Technical College. Student speakers were Eugenie Macie and Heather Downs, SAD44 Board Chair Kelly Scotti, superintendent Kent Rosberg, and Adult Education Director Cathy Newell offered congratulatory remarks. Learning Center staff Merrill Bittner, Lee Dolleman and Jeanette Baldridge presented book awards to the graduates. Shown here are, front (from left): Kimberly Poulin of Locke Mills, Crystal Jacques of Bryant Pond, Eugenie Macie of Locke Mills, Heather Downs of Locke Mills; back: Michael Swett of Gardiner, Tim Frisk of Dixfield, Matt Collins of Bethel, Jeremy Melix of Greenwood. In addition to those pictured, the class included Debbie Blais of Bethel, Walter Drakus of Andover, Steven Evans of Bryant Pond, Gina Hotham of Bryant Pond, Alana Kennagh of Bethel, Gordon Peace of Milton Plantation, and Nathaniel Thibodeau of Andover. Drakus and Peace both enlisted in the U.S. Army following completion of high school requirements earlier in the year.

a bathing suit or shorts was stretched out in the bed of her truck. The truck was parked beside the Sunday River Schoolhouse. To each her own. Personally, I prefer a quieter spot to stretch out, although I have resorted to the yard, which is not as quiet as once it was. Maybe she was waiting for a jogger and didn't want to waste a nice day.

Because this was not printed last week, you get to enjoy it this week. Instead, activity has increased at the Nowlin homestead. Yvonne is expected soon and Pat Early has been fixing up the yard. It is possible someone has been staying there, too. There was a red car visible, over night. I knew it was not a robber, because whoever it was mowed the lawn. The yard looks good, the lilacs (of the white variety) are in bloom, and the grass is at a manageable height.

From the White Mountain National Forest

The Androscoggin Ranger District of the White Mountain National Forest invites all hiking enthusiasts to celebrate National Trails Day by joining in two upcoming trails maintenance weekends, June 5-6 and June 12-13.

The work days are planned for folks who want to volunteer their time to help with basic maintenance needed to get the trails in good condition for the summer hiking season. Volunteering a total of 16 hours over the course of the four work days will earn volunteers a free parking pass for the use on the White Mountain National Forest, valid for one year.

Volunteers are encouraged to sign up prior to the work days by calling Chris Joosen, Forest Service trails manager, at (603) 466-2713, ext. 215, although preregistration is not required. Volunteers can choose any or all of the four work days, meeting at the back of the Androscoggin Ranger Station (Route 16, Gorham, N.H.) at 8 a.m. on each work day to receive work assignments, instructions, and tools. A Forest Service trails crew member will accompany each volunteer crew for the day until about 4:30 p.m.

Work is planned for people of all abilities, from easy hikes to more difficult terrain. Children should be accompanied by a parent and be able to work safely for the day. Basic maintenance requires the use of hand tools to trim vegetation on trailsides and clean out drainage structures. Volunteers should dress for the weather, wear sturdy boots, and bring a lunch, water, and insect repellent if needed.

From the

Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

The grand opening of the Bethel Historical Society's Robinson House will be held at 6 p.m. on Thursday, June 3, at the Robinson House, next door to the Dr. Moses Mason House.

This building will be the site for a much-expanded museum shop and an exhibit on the history of the house and the families who have resided here since 1821. On the third floor are now found the offices of the executive director, the office secretary, and the bookkeeper.

At 6 p.m. the official opening of the new museum shop will be held. There will be tours of the Robinson House between 6 and 7 p.m. At 7 p.m., there will be a ribbon cutting in front of the Robinson House. At 7:20 p.m., the presentation of a special necklace to benefit the capital campaign will be made by the donor, James Mann of Mountain Mann Jewelers. At 7:30 p.m., Randall H. Bennett, curator of collections and assistant director, will make a presentation on the architectural history of the Robinson House. He will be followed by the executive director, Stan Howe, who will speak on the families who have occupied the house since it was built in 1821.

Everyone is welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served.

The 20th annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show was held on Saturday, May 29, at the Bethel Historical Society's Dr. Moses Mason House. The show features a competition for cash prizes for elementary students in SAD44 to submit a work of art based on an annual historical theme. This year's choice selected by the Art Committee was covered bridges. Horses, wagons, oxen, people of the past were also suggested, as were mountains, rivers, rocks, and flowers as part of the entry.

There was a good response to this year's contest and the entries were particularly good. Judges for the 1999 show were Tim Kavanagh, Judy Richardson and Sandra Clement.

Winners in Division I (Grades One and Two) were Jessica Turner, first prize, C.P.S., Grade Two; Lucas Zale, second prize, C.P.S., Grade Two; Arete Maselli, third prize, A.E.S., Grade One; Division II (Grades three and four): Mark Emerson, first prize, A.E.S., Grade Three; Keagan Easter, second prize, A.E.S., Grade Three; Danielle Henley, third prize, C.P.S., Grade Three; Division III: Matthew Mills, first prize, T.M.S., Grade Six; Danna Wilson, second prize, C.P.S., Grade Five; Joel Lincoln, third prize, T.M.S., Grade Six. A special Judge's Award was also conferred upon Philippe Grant.

The Faye Taylor Art Show honors the memory of Faye Sanborn Taylor (1908-1972), a local artist who was very interested in art for young artists. She was also a founder of the Bethel Historical Society in 1966. The annual show is part of the educational programming of the society, which offers a variety of regional history activities for students of all ages.

HELP IS JUST MINUTES AWAY--Lifelight of Maine met recently in Bethel with members of 13 different agencies to coordinate response procedures for the air ambulance service. The training was sponsored by Northern Oxford Mutual Aid, and arranged by assistant chiefs Mike Jodrey of the Bethel Fire Department and Bob Hutchins of the Andover Fire Department. Lifelight supplements local emergency services by cutting down substantially the travel time to hospitals for critically injured or ill patients. The fire departments will work with Lifelight to set up predesignated landing zones in the area.

From the

Bethel Library

It's spring and the Bethel Library is getting ready for its annual Perennial Plant Sale. If you want to donate your perennial "extras" for this event or if you would like to help out in any way please contact Melody at 824-0405, Betsy at 824-2261 or Nancy at 824-4095.

The library is also gearing up for the Summer Reading Program. This program is going on its 11th year. The library along with Pizza Hut and the Department of Education hope to encourage children to read during their summer vacation. The program is open to all local children. Children may sign up at the circulation desk starting the week of June 14.

The following patrons once again donated books, videotapes and audio tapes to the library. Thank you, Robert James, the Family of Anne Fenney, Linda Gamble, Karen Swanson, Lorrie Hoch and John Starr. We would also like to thank Kathy Hooke for ordering the library a subscription to "Poets" and "Writers" magazines.

From the

Oxford County Republicans

State Sen. James Libby (R-Buxton), who is contemplating a run for governor in 2002, was the featured speaker at the May meeting of the Oxford County Republican Committee held at Market Square Restaurant. Sen. Libby pointed out that Maine's burden for state and local taxes is the highest in the Northeast, except for New York.

If Maine is to attract more economic development, the state must improve its position in regard to taxes. Also hurting the state economically is the high cost of energy and the level of regulation. In addition, he said Maine must become more retiree-friendly.

During the business meeting, Greg Humble, an intern in Sen. Snowe's Auburn office, reported on the senator's efforts on a number of issues, including ice-storm relief for Maine. Jane Desaulniers, of Snowe's Auburn office, reported that Matt MacIsaac of Mexico would be a summer intern. Jarrod hault, Catherine DiCocco, Tim McGuire, Beth Myers, Ginger Kelly, Daniel and Holly Perron. They will be selling a variety of fresh high-quality products. In the beginning the products will consist mainly of seedlings, herbs, perennials, poultry products, butter, baked goods, jams, jellies, honey and maple syrup. As the season progresses, we will add a variety of berries, cut and dried flowers and a large variety of high-quality vegetables in season.

Seventy-five percent of the products for sale must be grown on the vendor's farm; the 25 percent that can be purchased for resale must be produced in Maine and within 25 miles of the market.

This market has been running for many years and is well attended by the local townspeople as well as people from nearby locations and vacationers.

The members of the Bethel Farmers' Market are planning to have a demonstration day one Saturday a month or more if there are many interested participants. If you do quilting, shear sheep, do woodcarving or any similar type of crafts and are interested in demonstrating them, please contact Kathy Bennett at 824-2797.

We look forward to greeting all of our faithful customers and hope to make many new acquaintances.

Chamber of Commerce

A reminder that this Saturday, June 5, is the second annual Bethel Antique Show and Sale at Crescent Park School from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nearly three dozen exhibitors from Maine and New Hampshire will be present. The CPS PTA will be selling refreshments. Many thanks to chairwoman Kimberly Poland for all her work and to our sponsors: Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Cyr Auction Company, Mahoosuc Realty, WJ Wheeler & Company, Inc. Insurance, United States Cellular and Shop 'n Save.

A belated but sincere thanks to member photographer Carol Savage for taking such great photos at the chamber's annual Awards Banquet on May 7th.

Fourth of July Fireworks collection containers are visible at many of the areas' businesses.

Crockett, who represented state

Committeeman Stan Howe at the State Committee meeting in Bangor, reported on the campaign workshop he attended. State Committeewoman Becky Kendall of Bethel reviewed the issues facing the State Committee.

About the Business Person who Doesn't Advertise...

This person wakes up in the morning to the sound of an advertised alarm clock, climbs out of his advertised bed, and takes off his advertised pajamas. Then he takes a bath in an advertised tub, with advertised soap, shaves with an advertised razor, eats an advertised breakfast food, puts on his advertised clothes and drives to work in his advertised car. He then sits at an advertised desk and writes with an advertised pen. Yet this man doesn't advertise - saying that advertising does not pay.

Eventually, when his unadvertised business goes under, he will advertise it for sale!

NOTICE OF LAYOUT AND TAKING

The State of Maine by its Department of Transportation does hereby give notice to all whom it may concern:

That the Department of Transportation, in accordance with the authority of Title 23 M.R.S.A. Section 651, has determined that public exigency requires the altering, widening, changing the grade, changing the drainage, layout and establishing of a portion of Valley Road in the Town of Sumner, County of Oxford.

That the Department of Transportation, in accordance with Title 23 M.R.S.A. Sections 701 and 651, has laid out the location of a portion of Valley Road in the said Town of Sumner.

That the Department of Transportation, in accordance with Title 23 M.R.S.A. Sections 651 and 151 to 159, has determined that public exigency requires the taking of all land, buildings and rights in land within or adjacent to the boundary lines as herein set forth and described and as shown on a right-of-way map, Valley Road, Town of Sumner, State Project No. 7732.00, (PIN 007732.00), dated March, 1999, on file in the Office of the Department of Transportation, (D.O.T. File No. 9-306) and to be recorded in the Registry of Deeds of Oxford County, (Eastern Division) a print of which is on file in the office of the County Commissioners of Oxford County.

DESCRIPTION OF FEE TAKING

All land, buildings, and rights in land within the following described boundaries, which are located with respect to the following described Base Line are taken in fee simple:

Obituaries

NORINNE B. BRADLEY

Norinne Bryant Bradley, 87, formerly of Daytona Beach, Fla., died Friday, May 28, 1999, at the Market Square Health and Rehabilitation Center, South Paris.

She was born in Newry on June 17, 1911, the daughter of James W. Bryant and Sara Jane Brooks. She graduated from Paris High School in 1932 and later from Glen Cove School of Nursing in Glen Cove, N.Y.

She was the widow of Constantine Balocca, who died in 1964 and Thomas Bradley, who died in 1974.

She was an LPN working at Holly Hill Hospital in Holly Hill, Fla., for many years.

She was a member of the Eastern Star and the Episcopal Church of South Daytona, Fla. She lived in Daytona Beach, Fla., for over 30 years.

Survivors include several nieces and nephews.

A graveside service will be held on Saturday, June 5, at 3 p.m. in the Bryant Pond Cemetery on Route 26, with the Rev. Norman Rust officiating.

ROBERT A. OWENS SR.

Robert A. Owens Sr., 56, of Oxford, died Saturday, May 29, 1999, at Market Square Health Center, South Paris.

He was born in Monmouth on Aug. 23, 1942, the son of Austin and Margaret Williams Owens. He attended school in Oxford and graduated from Oxford High School in 1960.

In 1961, he married Charlene Savage.

He worked at Robinson Manufacturing from high school until 1995. He was a licensed real estate broker from 1995-1996. He owned, with his wife, Bethel Express in Bethel. Most recently, he drove school bus for Hebron Academy, which he enjoyed very much.

He was a past master of Oxford Lodge 18, past patron of Oxford

Chapter OES, a member of York Rite bodies and Kora Temple.

He was also a member of North American Family Campers Association, Pine Tree Chapter 33. He enjoyed camping, especially at Pine Tree in Buckfield, fishing and hunting.

Survivors include his wife of Oxford; three sons, Robert A. Jr. of Bethel, Thomas and his wife Colleen of Oxford, and Reginald and his wife Linda of Chesapeake, Va.; three sisters and their husbands, Rita and Francis Herrick of Hobbs Sound, Fla., Alice and Sid Linscott and Pat and Bill Frye, both of Oxford; one brother and his wife, Everett and Marge of Oxford; and nine grandchildren.

BOBBY T. RICHARDSON

Bobby Terrill Richardson, 61, of Andover, died unexpectedly Monday, May 31, 1999, at the Rumford Community Hospital.

He was born in Madison County, Richmond, Ky., July 12, 1937, the son of Leslie David Richardson and Anna Burgin Shearer. For a few years he lived with his family in Hamilton, Ohio, and later returned to Paint Lick, Ky., where he completed high school.

Following high school, he joined the United States Air Force. He had duty in New York, Mississippi, Germany, Maine, California, Labrador, and Arizona.

While in Maine, he met Judith Hazel Colby, and they were married on Aug. 16, 1958, in Bath.

After leaving the military, he worked in Civil Service at Topsham Air Force Station, until it closed. From there he moved, with his family, to Lexington, Ky., and was manager of a Marathon Service Station.

In 1965, he moved his family back to Maine. He worked at the Bath Iron Works as a machinist for four years. During that time, he was a cubmaster in Brunswick, where they lived. He previously worked with Boy Scouts in Germany and was an Eagle Scout in Kentucky. He became district commissioner upon moving to the town of Mexico.

Work as a facilities engineer at the Andover Earth Station, owned by COMSAT, brought him to Mexico and the next year to Andover, to live.

He was a member of the Blazing Star Lodge 30, AF & AM, Knights Templar, Kora Shrine Temple, Andover Fire Department as dispatcher, a very active member of the Andover Congregational Church, where he had served as a deacon and a trustee, and was a very active member of Napoleon Ouellette Post 24, American Legion in Rumford, where he served as treasurer last year and was presently a member of the executive committee.

He enjoyed woodworking and had made many items for his family and friends. Other hobbies included singing and playing guitar and stock car racing, as a spectator and in earlier years as a mechanic.

He and his wife Judy especially enjoyed traveling, and their grandchildren. They wintered at their home in Andover and spent their summers at their cottage at Worthley Pond in Peru.

Survivors include his wife of Andover; three sons and their wives, Bobby Jr. and Linda of Deltona, Fla., David K. and Britta of Gardiner, Willard Lee and his companion, Chandra, of Amesbury, Mass.; and six grandchildren. He was predeceased by a brother, Leslie David Jr.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, June 3, 1 p.m. at the Meader & Son Funeral Home, 3 Franklin Street, Rumford, with Pastor Jane Rich officiating. Interment will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Andover. Donations may be made to MEDCARE, 119 Main Street, Mexico, ME 04257, in his memory.

Thank You

It is with great humbleness that I express my gratitude and thanks for the outpouring of love, caring, concern and assistance during my emergency cancer surgery and since my return home. It would be impossible to include everyone, but you know who you are and please know how much my family and I appreciate your support and encouragement.

The many cards, the flowers and plants, the meals prepared, the house cleaning, the weed and feed crew, my hairdresser, the loan for my "healing garden", my gift from Ruthie, the daily pep talks with Ann, the prayers and support from my church family and the offers of transportation for my chemo have been overwhelming. Thank you.

The understanding and patience of my co-workers materializes in their willingness to add extra duties to their busy days so that business will proceed as usual. Thank you.

There aren't enough words to adequately express the comfort and peace that the presence of our friend and pastor, John Williams gave to us during that very trying time. Thank you.

To our daughter Laurie, who has given us 4 weeks of her caregiving and her family who have allowed her to be gone from their home - our loving gratitude for all that you have done to make this time easier for us. To Randy, Cathy, Sharon, and Rich - your visits, phone calls, and words of encouragement have made some hard times easier to face. Thank you. To my husband for being there when I needed you - I love you.

Nesta Littlefield

Mr. & Mrs. Mitchell Maddocks

Brandy Lynn Russo and Mitchell Lester Maddocks of Locke Mills were united in marriage on May 2, 1999, at the Unitarian-Universalist Church in Bryant Pond, with the Rev. Ed Gammon officiating.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, and wore an antique gown. The bride's bouquet consisted of white bridal roses with hanging ivy.

The matron of honor was Julie Cummings, sister-in-law of the bride. Bridesmaids were Michelle Winslow, Penny Taylor, Patty Tucker and Netty Kimball. The flower girl was Alexa Maddocks, the groom's daughter, and the ring bearer was Taylor Maddocks, also daughter of the groom.

The best man was Phil Maddocks, father of the groom. Ushers were Scott Maddocks, Tim Maddocks, Jason Maddocks and Frank Kimball. A reception followed at the Locke Mills Legion Hall.

Brandy is the daughter of Alan Russo of East Monmouth and the late Noreen Russo.

The bridegroom is the son of Judy VanVliet of Westbrook and Phil Maddocks of Rumford.

The couple traveled to Colorado and Arizona on their wedding trip. They are residing in Locke Mills.

"Thanks"

It's such a little word
No bigger than a minute
But there's a whole world of meaning in it.

Thanks! for the lovely party honoring my nineteenth birthday - attended by so many dear friends, family, and relatives. The original song composed by Ethel Bean Turner was a big hit.

The many (nearly ninety) beautiful cards and gifts were deeply appreciated. Thank you all again.
Alice Hunter Kimball

Card of Thanks

The family of James L. Brown would like to thank all the friends and relatives for the support, food, cards and other kindness shown to us during our recent loss. A special thanks to Greenleaf's Funeral Home, Androscoggin Home Health Services, Hospice, and the United Methodist Ladies.
